The Wadena Tribune has a $3,000

libel suit on its hands. The Tribune must have been telling some truths that didn't set well.

The supreme court has declared that no man has a legal right to a pension. That pensions are simply bounties given to the needy.

MINNEAPOLIS now offers Loring Park for a capital site, and also a gift of $2,000,000 to the state to build the capital. It would not be surprising if this offer would be referred to the people by the legislature.

And now the question of annexing

Chub is being agitated, and it is said that the administration favors it. There is no doubt but that the island will one day be a part of the United States, as its possession is necessary to permanent peace.

The Little Falls Herald takes issue with the Journal of this city, on the question of direct taxation, and it seems that a great many democrats throughout the state favor the system.

and it may be a plank in the next democratic platform. If it should be,

it will be interesting to see what attitude the Journal will assume. We predict, in such an event, that it will swallow the pill, and support the scheme, notwithstanding it has declared "We never saw anything in the sine of political suicide that equals it."

MUNICIPAL charter legislation is now agitating the people of the state, and the longer the question is discussed, the more difference of opinion there seems to be on the subject. The Howard charter bill, embodying the council form of government, as originally drawn, with a few modifications, would have been a very good plan, but this bill has been so amended in committee, and seems so unsatisfactory to some of the cities, that we think it would be best for the legislature to adopt Senator Fuller's bill to permit special legislation on municipal affairs, so that each city could secure any charter that the people of that community desired. This seems the best solution of the question.

His Parting Benediction.

A country minister in a certain locality took permanent leave of his congregation in the following pathetic manner: "Brothers and sisters, I come to say good-bye. I don't think

God loves this church, because none of you ever die. I don't think you love each other, because I never marry any of you. I don't think you love me, because you have not paid my salary; your donations are mouldy fruit and wormy apples, and by their fruit ye shall know them." Brothers,

I am going away to a better place, I have been called to be chaplain of a penitentiary. Where I go ye cannot come, but I go to prepare a place for you, and may the Lord have mercy on your souls. Good-bye."—Ex.

The Game and Fish Bill.

The game and fish bill, which passed the house Tuesday, makes several changes in the open seasons for game and fish. No change is made in the open seasons for prairie chickens, partridge, grouse or quail. The use of pond nets in interstate waters is permitted under certain conditions.

Moose, elk and caribou are protected until Jan. 1, 1898. The open seasons are:

Wild ducks, geese, brant, saipe—

Sept. 1 to April 15.

Golden plover—Sept. 1 to June 1.

Deer—Nov. 1 to Nov. 20, (and only five deer may be killed by any one person during the season.)

Bass, wall-eyed pike, etc.—May 1 to March 1.

Brook trout—May 1 to Sept. 1.

The board may authorize citizens of the state to take with spear during

December, January and February, from the inland lakes for home consumption any fish except bass, wall-eyed pike and trout.

The shipment from the state of any variety of bass, pike or trout caught in the inland waters, is prohibited.

Tunnels.

The Romans, who were great engineers, excavated some remarkable tunnels for aqueducts, but it has been reserved to the moderns to use them in road-building. One of the first was that under the river Thames at London, commenced in 1825, finished in 1843, and for a while one of the world's supposed wonders. It has since been eclipsed by the Severn tunnel (also constructed under a river) which is 4 1/2 miles long. The most noted railroad tunnels are: St. Gotthard, 9 1/2 miles;

Mont Cenis, 7 1/2 miles and the Hoosac,

4 1/2 miles. The railway from Bologna to Pistoia, across the Apennines

(Italy) has forty-six tunnels in a distance of sixty-two miles, equalled only by the Black Forest railway (Germany) which has twenty-nine tunnels in fifteen miles, one of which forms a complete letter "S." The world now has eighty-six canal tunnels, length

66 miles; nine hundred and fifty-seven aqueous tunnels, 291 miles; eight subaqueous tunnels, 83 miles; and thirty-seven aqueducts, 84 miles. North America has one hundred and fifteen railroad tunnels, several of them engineering works of great skill and cost—but though the Burlington

Route has none of them, its attractions in the way of equipment, speed, safety, and scenery are such that it is the favorite line with hundreds of thousands of intelligent travelers between the great cities of Chicago, St. Louis,

Denver, Kansas City, Omaha, Minnesota and St. Paul. For tickets, maps, folders, and any information, ap-

MINNESOTA'S IRON MINES.

The Legislators Spend Two Days Inspecting the Mineral Wealth of Our State.

The trip to Northern Minnesota made by the legislators last week was one which will bear good fruit in regard to shaping legislation concerning the iron industries of our state.

The party left St. Paul at 2:15 on Thursday over the St. Paul & Duluth line five sleeping cars which had been provided for the entire trip. Duluth was reached in time for supper, and at 11 p. m. a special train took the party over the D. & L. R. to the north where lies the untold wealth of iron ore. At 6 a. m., Friday morning, Ely was reached, which is the end of the road and where are located the Chandler and Pioneer mines. Here the party was breakfasted and the forenoon spent in viewing the works and exploring the mines. The Chandler mine was discovered in 1886, and in 1888 the railroad reached that point, the town of Ely springing up and growing rapidly until today it is a city of 3,500 people and metropolitan in its airs. The mayor of the city,

John Pouglin, is also manager of the Chandler mine and a royal good fellow. The city is situated on the rocky hills south of Long Lake, and is entirely dependent upon the mining industry for its support, although lumbering on a small scale has been commenced. The writer, with many others, descended the shaft of the Chandler, going down 475 feet, where the party was given a chance to see how the ore is taken from the bowels of the earth, and acquaint themselves with the army of miners who spend almost their entire life underground.

The output of this mine is 2,000 tons daily of what is known as soft ore which is guaranteed to carry 63 per cent of iron, and is of a very desirable quality, and is said to find ready purchasers. There are four shafts in this Hetty Green has contracted the habit of calling on Mayor Strong. Perhaps she is giving him points as to how to carry on a very economical administration.

"Honestly now, which one of your works do you think posterity will admire most?" a friend of Mark Twain recently asked him. "The one I shall publish next," answered the humorist, who has a genius for advertising.

One of the results of the Prince of Wales's ice-skating this season has been the receipt of letters from interested parties who are anxious to have His Royal Highness take up roller skating as a fad.

Princeton's football team reports its expenses last year at over $22,000 of which $798 was for drugs and doctors. An item of $2,350 for "training table" probably refers to the surgical operations, and several thousand dollars went to the undertakers.

For the first time in many years the business men of New York City are exerting a strong influence with the mayor, and he is one of them, with full power to appoint and to act. The result is a remarkable improvement in every department of the city's affairs.

In a recent book of verse the author, who is unknown to fame, remarks of the art of writing poetry that "if the car and touch be true, it's the easiest thing in the world to do." This poet's self confidence, but, unfortunately, his car is only fair, and his touch far from satisfactory.

The Pana, Ill., Coal Company has announced a reduction of the wages of its miners from 45 cents to 40 cents per ton or the alternative of $2 a day. The company has two large mines and employs between 500 and 600 men. Its superintendent says the men must shut down or there will be a shut down.

Prof. Huxley says that "flowers are the primers of the morphologist, and those who run may read in their rudimentary type amid endless diversity, singleness of plan, with complex multiplicity of detail." If this is the best science that it must be pronounced far less satisfactory than the average spring poem.

It will soon be two years since Dr. Nansen cut loose from communication with the world to test his theory that a ship placed in the lee north of Europe would be carried across the polar region, and, in the course of two years, reach the east coast of Greenland. If the doctor comes out alive he will have a story to tell but other Arctic explorers say he has probably perished.

The late Edward Frederick Smyth Pigott, the examiner of stage plays in England, was not so severe a censor as he might have been, but he sometimes took advantage of his authority to turn down some reckless playwright who had been "too Frenchy" to suit him. Mr. Pigott declined to countenance "A Gaiety Girl" in its original form, and it was only after a day of sparring that he allowed it to appear in its present make-up.

Photography is now more powerful than the eye in telescope work, and the phenomena of eclipses are increasing in importance. The possible discovery of a satellite to our moon has been agitated of late, and it would be no more surprising than to find that the familiar atmosphere has an important extension, the escaped observation until a few months ago, the coming era of larger lenses and improved photography will probably render the moon an object of remarkable interest.

Dr. Garnett, of the British Museum, has found a curious little "flower book" that was made up by Una Hawthorne, the novelist's daughter, in 1838, and he intends to send it to the museum of Hawthorne relics, in Salem. It is a faded little book of eighty pages, with a few flowers and leaves of grass, gathered at historic spots by Miss Hawthorne, and or leaves from Keats's and Shelley's graves, an olive leaf from "Casa Guido," in Florence, and a sprig of grass from Petrarch's house.

David Jones, a farmer living near Elwood, Ind., has had no sleep for 132 days and nights till within the past few days. He has lost a few pounds of flesh, but continued to work every day. The doctors prescribed for him, but failed to bring relief. Last evening he was taken ill and died during the night he slept half an hour. This has increased a little more every night since, and now his friends think he will soon be all right again. Three years ago he was ninety days without any sleep. His last night's rest occurred Sept. 23, last year.

The bill granting women the right to vote in the federal election was defeated in the Illinois senate by one vote. George Rainford of Aurora, Ill., claimed his eighty-eight-year-old son in an unusual way, because he had run away from school. Although it has been a most severe winter there has been less complaint than usual of suffering among the ill.

Charles Ogen was shot at Jeffersonville, Ind., by N. L. Kendall. Kendall had been killed in favor of Ogen and called him while he was making a call. Edwin A. Bergin of Anna, Union county, Ill., has been lodged in jail at Springfield to await the action of the United States grand jury on a charge of passing counterfeit money. Homer Fostnager, a boy of Scott's Crossing, Or., was shot in the face by one of a gang of tramps who were on a freight train. The shooting was without provocation. O. K. Anderson, assistant postmaster at Linn Grove, Ind., has been arrested and taken to Fort Wayne on a charge of being implicated in a robbery of the Linn Grove postoffice. The indictment for embezzlement standing for two years against ex-Gov. Ira J. Chase was dismissed at Kokomo. The indictment was in connection with the Paris-Dwiggins bank failure at Greentown. Mrs. Frank Edinger, being threatened with a neighbor by a neighbor with whom she had quarrelled, took a dose of strychnine, and also gave a dose to her seven-year-old son. The mother died, but the boy will recover.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

WORK OF THE MINNESOTA LAW-MAKERS.

Condensed Report of the Proceedings in the Senate and House, Commencing with the Opening of the Session, and a Summary of the Week's Business.

St. Paul, March 16.—The senate as a body was in a perturbed state of mind. Its members had not recovered their accustomed mental equilibrium, some of them being still under the influence of the long session and bitter fight over H. F. No. 1. And there were many inquiries as to the whereabouts of the members. No body knew where he was, although many ventured conjectures of where he might, could, would or should be.

The senators managed to shake themselves together sufficiently to go through the regular order of business for the adjournment at 1 o'clock to enable them to take part in the contemplated legislative trip to Duluth, Tower and the iron mines. When this on the calendar was reached, the session was adjourned.

General.
The offer of Loring Park for the state capital was made formally to the house and referred to the judiciary committee, after a long and at times heated debate, which many matters were discussed. It came up early in the day, the "petitions, memorials and other communications," which were read and referred to the reading clerk, with the remark: "Here is a communication from the city of Minneapolis, which the clerk will read." The clerk read and rustling of papers ceased, for all seemed curious to hear what the city of Minneapolis had to say to the legislature. The document was read by Robert Pratt, as mayor of Minneapolis.

The New Game Law.
The game and fish bill introduced at the first of the session and which has run the gauntlet of the judiciary and game committees, was finally passed by the house on Tuesday, and several changes in the open seasons are made. As far as prairie chickens, partridge, grouse and quail is concerned the time for killing remains as in the old law, and moose, elk and caribou are protected until Jan. 1, 1900. Spring shooting was adopted, the dates being as follows: Wild ducks, geese, brant and snipe—Sept. 1 to April 15.
Golden plover—Sept. 1 to June 1.
Deer—Nov. 1 to Nov. 20, and only five deer to be killed by any one person during the season.

In addition to the law governing fishing the board of game commissioners may authorize any citizen of the state to take with spear during the months of December, January and February from the inland lakes for home consumption any fish except bass, wall-eyed pike or trout. Fishing with nets for white fish and turbot during the month of November is also permitted by the act.

HENRY I. COHEN.

Rev. Rowe, it is reported, appeared before the grand jury, and stated that houses of ill-fame were running in the city without restraint except a monthly fine, which was equivalent to a license, and wanted the matter investigated, with a view of ridding the city of them. However, no action was taken by the grand jury on the matter.

The entertainment given at St. Francis Catholic church last Sunday evening, St. Patrick's Day, was a great success in every particular, the big church being filled to overflowing. The most prominent feature was the address by Rev. Fr. McNulty, of St. Paul, secretary of Archbishop Ireland. He spoke of St. Patrick as the greatest power in the world since the apostles, the results of whose labors would be felt as long as the world would last. He is an interesting speaker, and his address will long be remembered by all who heard it.

New Grounds.
Owing to the sale of the old fair ground property to Wm. Guthrie for agricultural purposes, the Brainerd Gun Club has been compelled to secure new grounds for their weekly shoot, hence the right to use a tract of land between the electric power house and the river has been secured, the underbrush all cleared off, and all the trap houses and other property of the Gun Club has been moved there and put in position. The ground will be plowed up and put into proper shape as soon as the frost will permit. The Club has had one or two meetings recently concerning the matter, but the annual meeting will be held in a short time and the organization for the coming year effected. Weekly shoots will be held throughout the summer as in past seasons.

Getting Sensational.

Rev. Geo. E. Rowe, of the First Baptist church, is having lots of fun with the boys these days. In his sermon last Sunday evening, it is reported he took occasion to give the mayor a rich, brown roast concerning the recent gambling arrests making statements that we would hardly like to repeat. He then devoted some words to the city attorney and municipal judge, claiming they were in league to defeat the ends of justice, after which he aired his views on the recent mass meeting of railroad employees, declaring that it was not a move of the men but the work of the officers of the company. He also stated that one of the speakers who pretended to champion the employees, had, during the strike last summer, sent in a list of names of employees to be black listed by the company. No names were mentioned, but Bro. Stivers, of the Journal, claims that the reverend gentleman was referring to him, and intimates very broadly that Mr. Rowe is notorious in—well, that he handles the truth recklessly. The speaker also remarked that he did not have to depend on rumors for his statements, but had proof of all that he said. It's barely possible, judging from the temper of some of the boys, that he may have an opportunity to prove his assertions. The address was to a crowded house.

DISTRICT COURT.

The March general term of the district court convened at 10 o'clock on Monday morning, Judge G. W. Holland presiding. The term bids fair to last a couple of weeks at least, as there is a good sized civil list on the calendar, and the criminal cases are unusually numerous. The grand jury was in session three days and returned indictments as follows:

Jas. Cusick, assault in the first degree. Defendant arraigned and pleaded not guilty.
Alfred Anderson, grand larceny in the first degree and burglary in the second degree. Defendant arraigned and pleaded not guilty to both indictments.

Robert Fitzgerald, rape. Defendant arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

Jas. McMetrie, selling liquor without a license. Defendant pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 30 days in jail and to pay a fine of $50, or in default 40 days in jail.

Wm. Breidford, selling liquor without a license. Defendant pleaded guilty and received same sentence as above.

Frank Breidford, selling liquor without a license. A plea of guilty entered and same sentence imposed. Two indictments were found against this defendant but one was dismissed.

Richard Rudway, selling liquor without a license. A plea of guilty entered and same fine imposed.

Frank Gonyea, assault in the second degree. A plea of not guilty entered.

John Sherron, selling liquor without a license. Plead not guilty.

Robert Mosk, selling liquor without a license. Plead not guilty.

The grand jury delivered the following report:

BRAINERD, March 20, 1899.
G. W. HOLLAND, Judge of the 15th Judicial District:
We, the grand jury, carefully examined the county and city jails and found the same in good condition, both sanitary and otherwise, reflecting credit upon the sheriff and others in charge of them.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES MCMEYER,
Foreman Grand Jury.

The following cases on the calendar have been disposed of:
Wm. Deering vs. Heddy Bartle. Verdict for plaintiff for $500. This suit was for the payment of four notes, aggregating $200 and interest, for farm machinery. Defendant denied he gave the notes.

Andrew J. Johnson vs. Northern Pacific Railroad Company. Verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $986.00. This suit was to recover wages since July, 1893. Plaintiff was injured in 1893, and settled with company for $4,000, which was paid. In addition he claimed there was a verbal agreement to give him an artificial limb and steady employment at wages he earned before his injury. The limb was furnished and the plaintiff employed until July, 1893, when he was laid off and now he sues the company for wages from then until the present time.

Joseph E. Fugate vs. Eliza Jane Fugate. Action for divorce. Settled without trial and case dismissed.

M. Hagberg vs. Ada B. Howes. Verdict for plaintiff $365.94.

BASE BALL MEETING.

Brainerd Wants the Championship for 1899. Meeting called to Take Place Monday Evening.

With the coming of nice weather the thoughts of many people are taken up with the question: "Will we have a ball team here this summer?" It is to be hoped that the lovers of the great national game here will do what they can to help keep a team here this summer. A person has no idea of the enthusiasm manifested by the average crank while witnessing a close game of ball. Look at the unalloyed joy depicted on his countenance as brilliant plays are being made, every fibre of his being thrills, and sends the life blood coursing through his veins. The only feeling that surpasses it is the feeling that overtakes a young man when he happens to grow a little tender on some girl.

It is quite an honor for a city the size of Brainerd to boast of having the best amateur team in the state, but Brainerd enjoys that distinction, having won the amateur championship of this state in 1893 and 1894, and that too, by defeating the very best teams in Minnesota and Wisconsin. Brainerd has the best percentage average of any amateur or professional team in the United States in the number of games won or lost during the last two years, which is .800 per cent. The boys are all here, with the exception of one or two players. Bob Hill, our crack third baseman, is practicing daily at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, and says that he will be in condition to play the ball of his life this summer. "Nig" Bourquin, our genial little captain, will be down from Staples soon and will captain the team this summer. The rest of the boys are here, and are anxiously waiting for the umpire to say "play ball."

Frank Visser, a brother of the celebrated Joe Visser, of last year's Minneapolis league team, is here, and says that if he can secure a position he will stay here and play ball with us. Frank Howe, who is considered the speediest and best amateur pitcher in the Northwest, tried him out the other day, and says that he is one of the best catchers that he ever threw to. He is a good man to take Hinta's place. The Morris management are after four of our best players, Phyle, Bourquin, Bland and Hill, but the boys say that they will play with us if we have a team. It is to be hoped that the Brainerd management will do something to keep these crack players here this season. Mr. H. S. Judson, president of the Morris bank, says that he is out for the state championship this year, and if money can secure the place for them, there will be plenty of it. They will have to do some tall hustling to win from us this season, as we intend to win that title ourselves. Captain Bourquin claims that he will get together a team that will win everything in sight.

There will be a base ball meeting held next Monday evening, March 25, at Peabody & Baker's hall, at 9 o'clock sharp. The object of this meeting is called for the purpose of organizing a ball team for the season of 1899. Let every one attend who can. There should be no laggards, as now is the time to get the thing started. Here's success to the Brainerd team for the coming season, and may she acquit herself gloriously on the diamond, is the wish of

The New Game Law.
The game and fish bill introduced at the first of the session and which has run the gauntlet of the judiciary and fish and game committees, was finally passed by the house on Tuesday, and several changes in the open seasons are made. As far as prairie chickens, partridge, grouse and quail is concerned the time for killing remains as in the old law, and moose, elk and caribou are protected until Jan. 1, 1898. Spring shooting was adopted, the dates being as follows: Wild ducks, geese, brant and snipe—Sept. 1 to April 15.

Golden plover—Sept. 1 to June 1.
Deer—Nov. 1 to Nov. 20, and only five deer to be killed by any one person during the season.
Bass, wall-eyed pike, etc.—May 1 to March 1.

In addition to the law governing fishing the board of game commissioners may authorize any citizen of the state to take with spear during the months of December, January and February from the inland lakes for home consumption any fish except bass, wall-eyed pike or trout. Fishing with nets for white fish and tulipies during the month of November is also permitted by applying for a license to the board.

The shipping from the state of any variety of bass, pike or trout caught in the inland waters, is prohibited.

WE OFFER next Monday those immense heavy Turkish Bath Towels, 4 Towels to each customer at 25c. each.
HENRY I. COHEN.

Rev. Rowe, it is reported, appeared before the grand jury, and stated that houses of ill-fame were running in the city without restraint except a monthly fine, which was equivalent to a license, and wanted the matter investigated, with a view of ridding the city of them. However, no action was taken by the grand jury on the matter.

The entertainment given at St. Francis Catholic church last Sunday evening, St. Patrick's Day, was a great success in every particular, the big church being filled to overflowing. The most prominent feature was the address by Rev. Fr. McNulty, of St. Paul, secretary of Archbishop Ireland. He spoke of St. Patrick as the greatest power in the world since the apostles, the results of whose labors would be felt as long as the world would last. He is an interesting speaker, and his address will long be remembered by all who heard it.

New Grounds.

Owing to the sale of the old fair ground property to Wm. Guthrie for agricultural purposes, the Brainerd Gun Club has been compelled to secure new grounds for their weekly shoot, hence the right to use a tract of land between the electric power house and the river has been secured, the underbrush all cleared off, and all the trap houses and other property of the Gun Club has been moved there and put in position. The ground will be plowed up and put into proper shape as soon as the frost will permit. The Club has had one or two meetings recently concerning the matter, but the annual meeting will be held in a short time and the organization for the coming year effected. Weekly shoots will be held throughout the summer as in past seasons.

Getting Sensational.

Rev. Geo. E. Rowe, of the First Baptist church, is having lots of fun with the boys these days. In his sermon last Sunday evening, it is reported he took occasion to give the mayor a rich, brown roast concerning the recent gambling arrests making statements that we would hardly like to repeat. He then devoted some words to the city attorney and municipal judge, claiming they were in league to defeat the ends of justice, after which he aired his views about the recent mass meeting of railroad employees, declaring that it was not a move of the men but the work of the officers of the company. He also stated that one of the speakers who pretended to champion the employees, had, during the strike last summer, sent in a list of names of employees to be black listed by the company. No names were mentioned, but Bro. Stivers, of the Journal, claims that the reversed gentleman was referring to him, and intimates very broadly that Mr. Rowe is a notorious liar, well, that he handles the truth recklessly. The speaker also remarked that he did not have to depend on rumors for his statements, but had proof of all that he said. It's barely possible, judging from the temper of some of the boys, that he may have an opportunity to prove his assertions. The address was to a crowded house.

DISTRICT COURT.

The March general term of the district court convened at 10 o'clock on Monday morning, Judge G. W. Holland presiding. The term bids fair to last a couple of weeks at least, as there is a good sized civil list on the calendar, and the criminal cases are unusually numerous. The grand jury was in session three days and returned indictments as follows:

Jas. Cusick, assault in the first degree. Defendant arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

Alfred Anderson, grand larceny in the first degree and burglary in the second degree. Defendant arraigned and pleaded not guilty to both indictments.

Robert Fitzgerald, rape. Defendant arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

Jas. McMurtry, selling liquor without a license. Defendant pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 30 days in jail and to pay a fine of $50, or in default 40 days in jail.

Wm. Bradford, selling liquor without a license. Defendant pleaded guilty and received same sentence as above.

Frank Bradford, selling liquor without a license. A plea of guilty entered and same sentence imposed. Two indictments were found against this defendant but one was dismissed.

Richard Rudway, selling liquor without a license. A plea of guilty entered and same fine imposed.

Frank Gouyea, assault in the second degree. A plea of not guilty entered.

John Sheron, selling liquor without a license. Plead not guilty.

Robert Mosk, selling liquor without a license. Plead not guilty.

The grand jury delivered the following report:

BRAINERD, March 20, 1895.
G. W. HOLLAND, Judge of the 15th Judicial District:

We, the grand jury, carefully examined the county and city jails and found the same in good condition, both sanitary and otherwise, reflecting credit upon the sheriff and others in charge of them.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES McMURTRY,
Foreman Grand Jury.

The following cases on the calendar have been disposed of:

Wm. Deering vs. Hedry Bartle. Verdict for plaintiff for $390. This suit was for the payment of four notes, aggregating $260 and interest, for farm machinery. Defendant denied he gave the notes.

Andrew J. Johnson vs. Northern Pacific Railroad Company. Verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $986.00. This suit was to recover wages since July, 1893. Plaintiff was injured in 1893, and settled with company for $4,000, which was paid. In addition he claimed there was a verbal agreement to give him an artificial limb and steady employment at wages he earned before his injury. The limb was furnished and the plaintiff employed until July, 1893, when he was laid off and now he sues the company for wages from then until the present time.

Joseph E. Fugate vs. Eliza Jane Fugate. Action for divorce. Settled without trial and case dismissed.

BASE BALL MEETING.

Brainerd Wants the Championship for 1895. Meeting Called to Take Place Monday Evening.

With the coming of nice weather the thoughts of many people are taken up with the question: "Will we have a ball team here this summer?" It is to be hoped that the lovers of the great national game here will do what they can to help keep a team here this summer. A person has no idea of the enthusiasm manifested by the average crank while witnessing a close game of ball. Look at the unalloyed joy depicted on his countenance as brilliant plays are being made, every fibre of his being thrills, and sends the life blood coursing through his veins. The only feeling that surpasses it is the feeling that overtakes a young man when he happens to grow a little tender on some girl.

It is quite an honor for a city the size of Brainerd to boast of having the best amateur team in the state, but Brainerd enjoys that distinction, having won the amateur championship of this state in 1893 and 1894, and that too, by defeating the very best teams in Minnesota and Wisconsin. Brainerd has the best percentage average of any amateur or professional team in the United States in the number of games won or lost during the last two years, which is 800 per cent. The boys are all here, with the exception of one or two players. Bob Hill, our crack third baseman, is practicing daily at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, and says that he will be in condition to play the ball of his life this summer. "Nig" Bourquin, our genial little captain, will be down from Staples soon and will captain the team this summer. The rest of the boys are here, and are anxiously waiting for the umpire to say "play ball."

Frank Visser, a brother of the celebrated Joe Visser, of last years' Minneapolis league team, is here, and says that if he can secure a position he will stay here and play ball with us. Frank Howe, who is considered the speediest and best amateur pitcher in the Northwest, tried him out the other day, and says that he is one of the best catchers that he ever threw to. He is a good man to take Blint's place. The Morris management are after four of our best players, Phyle, Bourquin, Bland and Hill, but the boys say that they will play with us if we have a team. It is to be hoped that the Brainerd management will do something to keep these crack players here this season. Mr. H. S. Judson, president of the Morris bank, says that he is out for the state championship this year, and if money can secure the place for them, there will be plenty of it. They will have to do some tall hustling to win from us this season, as we intend to win that title ourselves. Captain Bourquin claims that he will get together a team that will win everything in sight.

There will be a base ball meeting held next Monday evening, March 25, at Peabody & Baker's hall, at 9 o'clock sharp. The object of this meeting is called for the purpose of organizing a ball team for the season of 1895. Let every one attend who can. There should be no laggards, as now is the time to get the thing started. Here's success to the Brainerd team for the coming season, and may she acquit herself gloriously on the diamond, is the wish of The Wadena Tribune has a $3,000 libel suit on its hands. The Tribune must have been telling some truths that didn't set well.

The supreme court has declared that no man has a legal right to a pension. That pensions are simply bounties given to the needy.

MINNEAPOLIS NOW OFFERS Loring Park for a capital site, and also a gift of $2,000,000 to the state to build the capitol with. It would not be surprising if this offer would be referred to the people by the legislature.

And now the question of annexing Cuba is being agitated, and it is said that the administration favors it. There is no doubt but that the island will one day be a part of the United States, as its possession is necessary to permanent peace.

The Little Falls Herald takes issue with the Journal, of this city, on the question of direct taxation, and it seems that a great many democrats throughout the state favor the system, and it may be a plank in the next democratic platform. If it should be, it will be interesting to see what attitude the Journal will assume. We predict, in such an event, that it will swallow the pill, and support the scheme, notwithstanding it has declared "We never saw anything in the line of political suicide that equals it."

MUNICIPAL CHARTER LEGISLATION is now agitating the people of the state, and the longer the question is discussed, the more difference of opinion there seems to be on the subject. The Howard charter bill, embodying the council form of government, as originally drawn, with a few modifications, would have been a very good plan, but this bill has been so amended in committee, and seems so unsatisfactory to some of the cities, that we think it would be best for the legislature to adopt Senator Fuller's bill to permit special legislation on municipal affairs, so that each city could secure any charter that the people of that community desired. This seems the best solution of the question.

His Parting Benediction.
A country minister in a certain locality took permanent leave of his congregation in the following pathetic manner: "Brothers and sisters, I come to say good-bye. I don't think God loves this church, because none of you ever die. I don't think you love each other, because I never marry any of you. I don't think you love me, because you have not paid my salary; your donations are mostly fruit and wormy apples, and I by their fruit ye shall know them." Brothers, I am going away to a better place. I have been called to be chaplain of a penitentiary. Where I go you cannot come, but I go to the Lord have mercy on your souls. Good-bye."—Ex.

The Game and Fish Bill.
The game and fish bill, which passed the house Tuesday, makes several changes in the open seasons for game and fish. No change is made in the open seasons for prairie chickens, quail, grouse or quail. The use of pond nets in interstate waters is permitted under certain conditions. Moose, elk and caribou are protected until Jan. 1, 1898. The open seasons are:

Wild ducks, geese, brant, snipe—Sept. 1 to April 15.

Deer—Nov. 1 to Nov. 20, (and only five deer may be killed by any one person during the season.)
Bass, wall-eyed pike, etc.—May 1 to March 1.

Brook trout—May 1 to Sept. 1.
The board may authorize citizens of the state to take with spears during December, January and February from the inland lakes for home consumption any fish except bass, wall-eyed pike and trout.

The shipment from the state of any variety of bass, pike or trout caught in the inland waters, is prohibited.

Tunnels.
The Romans, who were great engineers, excavated some remarkable tunnels for aqueducts, but it has been reserved to the moderns to use them in road-building. One of the first was that under the river Thames at London, commenced in 1825, finished in 1843, and for a while one of the world's supposed wonders. It has since been eclipsed by the Severn tunnel (also constructed under a river) which is 4½ miles long. The most noted railroad tunnels are: St. Gotthard, 9½ miles; Mont Cenis, 7½ miles and the Hoosac, 4½ miles. The railway from Bologna to Pistoia, across the Apennines (Italy) has forty-six tunnels in a distance of sixty-two miles, equalled only by the Black Forest railway (Germany) which has twenty-nine tunnels in fifteen miles, one of which forms a complete letter "S." The world now has eighty-six canal tunnels, length 66 miles; nine hundred and fifty-seven railway tunnels, 291 miles; eight subaqueous tunnels, 6½ miles; and thirty-seven aqueducts, 80 miles. North America has one hundred and fifteen railroad tunnels, several of them engineering works of great skill and cost—but though the Burlington Route has none of them, its attractions in the way of equipment, speed, safety, and security are such that it is the favorite line with hundreds of thousands of intelligent travelers between the great cities of Chicago, St. Louis, Denver, Kansas City, Omaha, Minneapolis and St. Paul. MINNESOTA'S IRON MINES.

The Legislators Spend Two Days Inspecting the Mineral Wealth of Our State.

The trip to Northern Minnesota made by the legislators last week was one which will bear good fruit in regard to shaping legislation concerning the iron industries of our state.

The party left St. Paul at 2:15 on Thursday over the St. Paul & Duluth in five sleeping cars which had been provided for the entire trip. Duluth was reached in time for supper, and at 11 p. m. a special train took the party over the D. & L. R. to the north where lies the untold wealth of iron ore. At 6 a. m., Friday morning, they were reached, which is the end of the road and where are located the Chandler and Pioneer mines. Here the party was breakfasted and the forenoon spent in viewing the works and exploring the mines. The Chandler mine was discovered in 1886, and in 1888 the railroad reached that point, the town of Elzy springing up and growing rapidly until today it is a city of 3,500 people and metropolitan in its airs. The mayor of the city, John Pengilly, is also manager of the Chandler mine and a royal good fellow. The city is situated on the rocky hills south of Long Lake, and is entirely dependent upon the mining industry for its support, although lumbering on a small scale has been commenced. The writer, with many others, descended the shaft of the Chandler, going down 475 feet, where the party was given a chance to see how the ore is taken. From the bowels of the earth, and acquaint themselves with the army of miners who spend almost their entire life underground. The output of this mine is 2,000 tons daily of what is known as soft ore, which is guaranteed to carry 63 per cent of iron, and is of a very desirable quality, and is said to find ready purchasers. There are four shafts in this mine and the levels are 60 feet apart. The party stayed in the mine for three hours, climbing from one shaft to the other by means of ladders and exploring each level until curiosity was exhausted, as well as endurance, and after three levels had been done the cage was called and the party was once more landed on the earth's surface, many of them glad to be where they could breathe the free air again, and vowing they would stay on top the balance of the trip. The party made the trip from Elzy to Tower, where dinner was served the party, and the mines of the Minnesota Iron Co. were viewed. The output of these mines is hard ore, the shafts being from 400 to 800 feet deep, and have underground connection with each other, 700 men being employed in the works. Of all the mines visited these were conceded to be the most substantial and best planned, and in all respects is a model in the line of work.

Tower City has 4,000 people and is a very busy place, having all branches of business usually found in places of a much greater population. Max Shapiro, a former Brainerderite, is a resident of that city, and is doing a thriving business in the meat line, besides being the owner of several good business blocks, and is considered one of the substantial men of the city. One drawback the city has is that the mining population all live outside the city corporation and peddlers who sell by sample and otherwise do a good business with them to the detriment of the merchants, and they cannot be reached by the laws which govern such things in the city.

From Tower the party went to Biwabie, where the Canton and Hale mines are located, and from there to Virginia City, where a banquet was tendered by the citizens at the Virginia Hotel, and the night was spent in that thriving city, adjacent to which is the Auburn mine, which last year put out 110,000 tons of ore. Lumbering is also carried on here to quite an extent.

The people of Virginia City did their utmost to provide pleasure for their visitors, and their hospitality will not be soon forgotten. The city, situated in a wilderness, is provided with electric lights, water works and all modern improvements, its streets are wide and the place has a thrifty appearance. Two years ago the town was completely destroyed by fire, but it was re-built in a more substantial manner and a steady increase in population has made it one of the best mining towns on the Mesabi range.

From Virginia the excursion train left at 11 a. m. for Two Harbors, dinner being served on the train while en route, and after viewing the great ore docks there the party left for Duluth, arriving at 4 p. m. and spending the balance of the day there, the evening being devoted to a banquet at the Spaulding House, at which 325 people participated, the return trip to St. Paul being started at midnight and the city was reached at 7:30 Sunday morning.

Much credit is due Chairman McInnis, who had charge of the junket, and who was ably assisted by Messrs. Cant and Smith, the other representatives of the Duluth delegation.

Very few of the members of the legislature who participated in the trip had ever visited a mining region and none were aware of the possibilities of Northern Minnesota as an ore producing country until they had been over the ground and seen for themselves what others had told them existed. It was the universal opinion that the time is only a short ways off when Minnesota will be second to no state in the production of iron ore, as with the cheapness of production of the soft ore it is inevitable that the output from the Mesabi and Vermilion ranges must necessarily increase with wonderful rapidity as the years go by, and the supply is inexhaustible.

ORGANIZATION WOULD BE RUIN.
A Sensible Letter From a Cass County Citizen on Organization.

MR. EDITOR: Much has been said concerning the organization of Cass county, both for and against. The question naturally arises whether it would be a benefit to the tax payers to organize or not to organize. Cass county, as it now stands, has all the advantages necessary for educational purposes. School houses are built where the country is settled. There is school held in these houses as many months in the year as parents will send their children to the schools.

Text books are furnished each child. All schools are supplied with all necessary apparatus for expediting school work. Under existing circumstances Cass county has ample funds for building school houses and supporting schools wherever there is a sufficient number of children to establish a school. The taxes of Cass county have averaged 9 mills on the dollar for the past six years—valuation being no greater than in any other county. What more can a county want when low valuation, small taxes, and good schools?

The agitators of organization claim that the vast lands of the county are not taxed high enough, also that Crow Wing county derives more benefit from taxes of Cass county than Cass county does. Now, the money paid to Crow Wing is not derived by a percent on the dollar, but so many mills per acre, which usually amounts to about $6,000. This amount cannot be altered only as Cass county gains or loses acres. For this $6,000 Crow Wing officers do the work—Crow Wing takes care of the judicial affairs, elections, and assessments—which alone would nearly consume the $6,000 per year. Now, let us consider Cass county as organized. The south end of the county is settled, while the northern portion is not settled. Of course our schools are situated in the settled portions. Should the county be organized school districts must be organized.

Even if we should have one township (which is the most territory allowable) comprise a school district, and the highest lawful tax, there would not be money enough to keep the necessary four months of school in each district, as the total taxes of the settled portion did not exceed $1,200 in the year 1894. The taxes from the other portion amounted to about $35,000. Now, should we organize under the most favorable circumstances—have honest, prudent officers, keep up our courts, etc., it would cost the county in the neighborhood of $50,000 per year. In addition it would be necessary to bond the county to construct the county buildings. In order to carry on the county affairs it would cost the county three times as much as it does at the present time. What I mean to say is, that instead of paying a one cent tax, we would have to pay a three cent tax and school tax additional. In the spring of 1892 and 1894, I assessed the western half of the county, and have talked with almost every tax payer in that portion, and can honestly say that they are not in favor of organizing the county. They express themselves as being satisfied as things now are.

I think I am safe in saying that if the vote was left to the tax payers alone they would not vote to have the county organized. Nearly every two in three settlers that vote are not tax payers.

In conclusion I would say that it would be better for us not to organize until we are more able to pay a large tax. Also, that if we should organize and raise the tax, the pine would be taken out of the county as quickly as possible. The pine owners would not stand a large tax. It seems to me that it would be far better to receive the benefit from those pine lands a good many years than to receive a much larger tax for a few years only. I know well enough that those working to have the county organized are anxious for organization because they hope by so doing to have the county funds in their care, which funds they will be able to care for better than they will take care of the county. In other words, they are looking for something fat.

Yours truly,
C. P. POTTER.

Our City Schools.
The state superintendent of schools has issued his eighth biennial report. The report of County Superintendent Wilson, of this county, is as follows:

The schools of this county have made very favorable progress during the past two years. While hard times have prevented any considerable lengthening of the term of school, yet the districts are voting seven, eight and nine months. The desire for a better class of teachers is almost universal throughout the county, and teachers holding third grade certificates are not held in high esteem.

The Teachers' Institutes of three or four years ago are and ought to be a thing of the past. Continuing for only a few days the best they could do was to amuse and entertain the teachers and send them back to their schools with a little more ambition but no more real knowledge than they had before the Institute. The Summer Training School, holding a month and taught by persons who know that their future employment depends on the character of their work, gives practical and thorough instruction in the various branches required to be taught in our country schools. I am convinced that our Summer Schools will be of the greatest services to our teachers when the work each year is confined to a few studies and those subjects are as thoroughly taught as they are in our best regular schools.

The free text book system has been in use in most districts only a few months—not long enough to give a comparison of cost. The plan grows in favor the longer it is used and should be made obligatory in all districts by enactment of the legislature. The state one mill tax has been of benefit to our schools and should be continued.

Appropriation money is, I think, in every case used as the law intends it should be used. To lengthen the term of school necessary to secure appropriation would be disastrous to school in troubled counties, where the schoolers are generally poor and with difficulty provide for schools for the length of term now required to secure appropriation. Non-taxable railroad land in this county is a great hindrance to the success of our schools. In one district of nine sections, five of these sections are railroad lands and pay no taxes, leaving the support of the schools to four sections. In several districts there is not an acre of taxable real estate and not over one thousand dollars worth of personal property to be taxed, but from fifteen to twenty-five children either to be educated or reared in ignorance. It should be the policy of the state to aid these poor people within her borders to educate their children rather than to add additional burdens upon the Shorter rarer than lengthen the term necessary to secure appropriation. Place the benefits of our schools within reach of even the poorest districts.

Although not present at the meeting of superintendents in Minneapolis in August yet I am heartily in favor of the township system for several reasons, one of which is that it is easier to find in a township three persons capable of managing schools than to find twelve or fifteen as required by the district plan. Another reason is found in the fact that by the township system the support of any particular school would not fall upon two or three sections, as it does at present. What our schools in this part of the state need more than all other things combined, is the taxation of railroad lands.

County Superintendent.

SHE WAS NOT ROBBED.
She Knew It, Because She Had Her Ride and Her Money.

She was wearing a lovely new gown, and she greeted a friend who entered the car with the air of a woman who feels that she has done her duty to society.

The conductor entered the car, collected the nickel of the newcomer and said briefly to the daintily gowned one:

"Face, please."

"I gave it to you when I first got in, didn't I?" she asked, smilingly. "Then, turning to her companion: 'Does the man fancy that I would defraud him of his 5 cents? Why, I wouldn't do such a thing for the world.'"

"He must think that you are like Eva."

"He must indeed. I believe she would perish at the stake rather than pay her way. Why, the other day we were coming down town together, and she hunted 5 pennies out of her pocket and said: 'Won't you give me a nickel for these? The conductor hates to take them.'"

"Of course you paid her fare?"

"Of course. And she was so pleased that she insisted upon taking me out to lunch, and as we were late getting home she would bring me up in a cab. And I do believe she thinks she is 5 cents ahead."

"No doubt. But Mrs. Skinner is the meanest woman I ever knew. She called for me one day to go somewhere, and after we were on the car she said: 'You just pay the fare, please. I have only a $20 bill with me.'"

"Where did she ever get so much money?"

"She hadn't it. I had forgotten my purse, but the conductor said never mind, he could change the note. She turned red and white and pretended to look for it, though she knew it was there."

"Oh, after I had let her fumble about ten minutes, I fished 10 cents out of my cape pocket. It was great fun."

At this juncture the conductor entered the car once more.

"Beg pardon, lady," he said, "but you really can't pay any fare."

She drew herself up haughtily. "I paid it when I first got in. I am always most particular about it. I remember it perfectly, because I noticed that it was the only nickel in my purse when I got it out."

"But, madam, you—"

"Oblige me with your number," she said majestically. "The company shall hear of this. If I cannot ride on this line without being insulted, I shall patronize another. You may stop the car."

The two ladies got off in great indignation, while the remaining passengers looked suspiciously at the conductor.

"I shall have my husband attend to this," she said; "the man simply wanted to pocket the extra fare. But I shan't get angry over it. I am so unbecomingly. Besides Tom will be angry enough for both. Oh, I must tell you a story that I know about Mrs. Skinner."

"Oh, yes, do!"

"She—wait a moment, my glove hurts me; the fastening must be too tight. Why, here is my nickel now! I took it out of my purse, and as the conductor didn't come right away I must have slipped it in my glove!"

"And you never paid any fare, after all!"

"No, and I almost accused the man of being a thief, with the money in my glove!" And she stood looking ruefully after the car.—Chicago Tribune.

THE STORY OF THE THUMBS.

A Young Lady of Observation Says They Are Tell-tales of Disposition.

"If you will allow me the Hibernianism," said a young lady of observation, "I would like you to note for me that the true index finger is the thumb. I do not mean that from the length of its phalanges you can find out whether there is a blond divinity or a brunette fate awaiting you, or that from its spatulated or oval nail I can tell whether you like pictures or horse races. All that digital conjuring I leave to the palm mysticists. But what I do mean is that the thumb is a remarkable indicator of its owner's bodily and mental condition."

"The newborn babe holds its thumbs in the palms of its hands, clenched in its little fists, and it is only when the mind and body both expand that it takes its thumbs out of its holocausts and up as independent organs. What deep connection there may be between this fact and our simian ancestry I cannot say. Let mothers watch their children's thumbs, and if they stick out boldly it is an unfailing indication of good health and aggressive disposition, while if they have a tendency to seek the shelter of the fingers it means feeble health and subservient will."

"Just notice the thumbs of your friends, now, and you will see the same relations between their posture and the man's constitution of mind and body. The conditions are simply these: The man's thumb is weak and pendulous, the strong man's thumb is strong and erect. The parallelism is so marked that you can tell from a glance at a man's thumbs whether he is an aimless thinker or a man who carries his ideas or somebody else's into action."

"It may be treachery to my sex, but I don't mind telling you that it will be a good thing for you fellows to mark well the thumbs of the ladies of your choice. If the girl's thumb, be it ever so prettily rosy, has a tendency to stand at right angles to the hand—well, the gray mare will need a bit, that's all, while if it lies flat or droops a little you can count on marital submission to the master mind, and that's the sort of domestic paradise all you sons of Adam are looking for, isn't it?"

"With the waning of the powers of frame and brain pot comes the depression, I had almost said the recession, of the thumb, and whether in senility or idiosyncrasy the thumb is always turned in. And then, when you turn your face to the wall and leave no more summer's heat nor winter's cold, those that stand about you and say, 'Well, poor old chap, he's gone at last,' will find that you have tucked your thumbs away in the shelter of your hands, just as you had them when you were a little baby."—New York Sun.

Temperature of the Body.
The Kansas Medical Journal has the following to say concerning the temperature of the body:

"It is remarkable what slight variation there is in the temperature of the healthy human body. The normal temperature is 98.6, and it is a fraction less than this one or two hours after midnight, while the maximum temperature occurs from one to two hours after the noon hour."

The temperature of the body, however, is not constant, but varies slightly with the food, fasting, exercise, all are factors in slightly varying the temperature. The great peculiarity about the temperature of man is its evenness under all conditions. Heat or cold causes but slight variation, and in man less than in any other animal. Gonyea, it is claimed beat the old man's ear and nose and then kicked him in the ribs and on the cheek, badly bruising him. His case has been investigated by the grand jury and an indictment returned.

WE OFFER next Monday those immense heavy Turkish Bath Towels, 4 Towels to each customer at 25c. each.
HENRY I. COHEN.

Rev. Rowe, it is reported, appeared before the grand jury, and stated that houses of ill-fame were running in the city without restraint except a monthly fine, which was equivalent to a license, and wanted the matter investigated, with a view of ridding the city of them. However, no action was taken by the grand jury on the matter.

The entertainment given at St. Francis Catholic church last Sunday evening, St. Patrick's Day, was a great success in every particular, the big church being filled to overflowing. The most prominent feature was the address by Rev. Fr. McNulty, of St. Paul, secretary of Archbishop Ireland. He spoke of St. Patrick as the greatest power in the world since the apostles, the results of whose labors would be felt as long as the world would last. He is an interesting speaker, and his address will long be remembered by all who heard it.

New Grounds.

Owing to the sale of the old fair ground property to Wm. Guthrie for agricultural purposes, the Brainerd Gun Club has been compelled to secure new grounds for their weekly shoot, hence the right to use a tract of land between the electric power house and the river has been secured, the underbrush all cleared off, and all the trap houses and other property of the Gun Club has been moved there and put in position. The ground will be plowed up and put into proper shape as soon as the frost will permit. The Club has had one or two meetings recently concerning the matter, but the annual meeting will be held in a short time and the organization for the coming year effected. Weekly shoots will be held throughout the summer as in past seasons.

Getting Sensational.

Rev. Geo. E. Rowe, of the First Baptist church, is having lots of fun with the boys these days. In his sermon last Sunday evening, it is reported he took occasion to give the mayor a rich, brown roast concerning the recent gambling arrests making statements that we would hardly like to repeat. He then devoted some words to the city attorney and municipal judge, claiming they were in league to defeat the ends of justice, after which he aired his views about the recent mass meeting of railroad employees, declaring that it was not a move of the men but the work of the officers of the company. He also stated that one of the speakers who pretended to champion the employees, had, during the strike last summer, sent in a list of names of employees to be black listed by the company. No names were mentioned, but Bro. Stivers, of the Journal, claims that the reverend gentleman was referring to him, and intimates very broadly that Mr. Rowe is a notorious liar, well, that he handles the truth recklessly. The speaker also remarked that he did not have to depend on rumors for his statements, but had proof of all that he said. It's barely possible, judging from the temper of some of the boys, that he may have an opportunity to prove his assertions. The address was to a crowded house.

The New Game Law.

The game and fish bill introduced at the first of the session and which has run the gamut of the judiciary and fish and game committees, was finally passed by the house on Tuesday, and several changes in the open seasons are made. As far as prairie chickens, partridge, grouse and quail are concerned the time for killing remains as in the old law, and moose, elk and caribou are protected until Jan. 1, 1898. Spring shooting was adopted, the dates being as follows: Wild ducks, geese, brant and snipe—Sept. 1 to April 15.
Golden plover—Sept. 1 to June 1.
Deer—Nov. 1 to Nov. 20, and only five deer to be killed by any one person during the season.
Bass, wall-eyed pike, etc.—May 1 to March 1.
In addition to the law governing fishing the board of game commissioners may authorize any citizen of the state to take with spear during the months of December, January and February from the inland lakes for home consumption any fish except bass, wall-eyed pike or trout. Fishing with nets for white fish and tulipies during the month of November is also permitted by applying for a license to the board.
The shipping from the state of any variety of bass, pike or trout caught in the inland waters, is prohibited.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

DISTRICT COURT.

The March general term of the district court convened at 10 o'clock on Monday morning, Judge G. W. Holland presiding. The term bids fair to last a couple of weeks at least, as there is a good sized civil list on the calendar, and the criminal cases are unusually numerous. The grand jury was in session three days and returned indictments as follows:

Jas. Cusick, assault in the first degree. Defendant arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

Alfred Anderson, grand larceny in the second degree. Defendant arraigned and pleaded not guilty to both indictments.

Robert Fitzgerald, rape. Defendant arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

Jas. McMertrie, selling liquor without a license. Defendant pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 30 days in jail and to pay a fine of $50, or in default 40 days in jail.

Wm. Bredfeld, selling liquor without a license. Defendant pleaded guilty and received same sentence as above.

Frank Bredfeld, selling liquor without a license. A plea of guilty entered and same sentence imposed. Two indictments were found against this defendant but one was dismissed.

Richard Rudway, selling liquor without a license. A plea of guilty entered and same fine imposed.

Frank Gonyea, assault in the second degree. A plea of not guilty entered.

John Sheron, selling liquor without a license. Plead not guilty.

Robert Moak, selling liquor without a license. Plead not guilty.

The grand jury delivered the following report:

BRAINERD, March 20, 1895.
G. W. HOLLAND, Judge of the 15th Judicial District:

We, the grand jury, carefully examined the county and city jails and found the same in good condition, both sanitary and otherwise, reflecting credit upon the sheriff and others in charge of them.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES McMURTRY,
Foreman Grand Jury.

The following cases on the calendar have been disposed of:

Wm. Deering vs. Hedry Bartle. Verdict for plaintiff for $390. This suit was for the payment of four notes, aggregating $260 and interest, for farm machinery. Defendant denied he gave the notes.

Andrew J. Johnson vs. Northern Pacific Railroad Company. Verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $986.00. This suit was to recover wages since July, 1893. Plaintiff was injured in 1889, and settled with company for $4,000, which was paid. In addition he claimed there was a verbal agreement to give him an artificial limb and steady employment at wages he earned before his injury. The limb was furnished and the plaintiff employed until July, 1893, when he was laid off and now he sues the company for wages from then until the present time.

Joseph E. Fugate vs. Eliza Jane Fugate. Action for divorce. Settled without trial and case dismissed.

BASE BALL MEETING.

Brainerd Wants the Championship for 1895. Meeting called to Take Place Monday Evening.

With the coming of nice weather the thoughts of many people are taken up with the question: "Will we have a ball team here this summer?" It is to be hoped that the lovers of the great national game here will do what they can to help keep a team here this summer. A person has no idea of the enthusiasm manifested by the average crank while witnessing a close game of ball. Look at the unalloyed joy depicted on his countenance as brilliant plays are being made, every fibre of his being thrills, and sends the life blood coursing through his veins. The only feeling that surpasses it is the feeling that overtakes a young man when he happens to grow a little tender on some girl.

It is quite an honor for a city the size of Brainerd to boast of having the best amateur team in the state, but Brainerd enjoys that distinction, having won the amateur championship of this state in 1893 and 1894, and that too, by defeating the very best teams in Minnesota and Wisconsin. Brainerd has the best percentage average of any amateur or professional team in the United States in the number of games won or lost during the last two years, which is 800 per cent. The boys are all here, with the exception of one or two players. Bob Hill, our crack third baseman, is practicing daily at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, and says that he will be in condition to play the ball of his life this summer. "Nig" Bourquin, our genial little captain, will be down from Staples soon and will captain the team this summer. The rest of the boys are here, and are anxiously waiting for the umpire to say "play ball."

Frank Visner, a brother of the celebrated Joe Visner, of last year's Minneapolis league team, is here, and says that if he can secure a position he will stay here and play ball with us.

Frank Howe, who is considered the speediest and best amateur pitcher in the Northwest, tried him out the other day, and says that he is one of the best catchers that he ever threw to. He is a good man to take Blint's place.

The Morris management are after four of our best players, Phyle, Bourquin, Bland and Hill, but the boys say they will play with us if we have a team. It is to be hoped that the Brainerd management will do something to keep these crack players here this season. Mr. H. S. Judson, president of the Morris bank, says that he is out for the state championship this year, and if money can secure the place for them, there will be plenty of it. They will have to do some tall hustling to win from this season, as we intend to win that title ourselves.

Captain Bourquin claims that he will get together a team that will win everything in sight.

There will be a base ball meeting held next Monday evening, March 25, at Peabody & Baker's hall, at 9 o'clock sharp. The object of this meeting is called for the purpose of organizing a ball team for the season of 1895. Let every one attend who can. There should be no laggards, as now is the time to get the thing started. Here's success to the Brainerd team for the coming season, and may she acquire herself gloriously on the diamond, is the wish of
